

May 5-9, 2008 Toronto Conferences- We don't waste your time or money. We show you how, in one day, (without spending days away from work), to use the methods that the top performers in the country use to create consistently high income, product penetrations, and an environment that the customers actually enjoy. Using these methods, you will consistently score in the very top levels of product sales, income per unit, and customer satisfaction. You will also achieve full, honest disclosure and legal protection for the Dealer. Go to www.teamoneamerica.com for registration information.

April 2008-

Our three day F&I Masters™ conference and training session is for both new or veteran F&I professionals and managers who are interested in achieving top levels of F&I performance. This program shares the best, cutting edge, practices from the top F&I departments in the country, creates the attendees expertise in the best customer research available, plus, develops mastery in the Package Menu™ and other methods. There are no computer CD's, flip charts, etc., to buy. Everything is included in the seminar fee. This program is copyright protected. No one else is authorized to offer you this method. This is the only F&I training program in the country that is fully guaranteed. If you do not see immediate, measurable results using our methods, your entire program fee will be refunded. No questions asked. Group size is strictly limited. There will be two dates by classification/ go to www.teamoneamerica.com for registration information and regional dates.

Ongoing Video Training or private seminars DVD Training Program–

Our 2 DVD program is all you need to learn the methods and process used by the top F&I managers in the country. Everything you need to get started is included for only $195.

Private Training, Seminars, and F&I Masters Course- Go to www.teamoneamerica.com or call 1-800-928-1923 for further information and schedules

More dates will be posted as regional schedules on the website.